- c) to send (by mail, e-mail, newsletter or mobile phone number or other IT means) communications related to the activities and initiatives of the Association

- e) for the participation of members in conferences, meetings and initiatives and for the organization and management of conferences
- f) for statistical analyses, also in aggregate form.

The legal basis of the processing is represented by the membership request and the association contract (art. 6 paragraph 1 letter b GDPR), the consent to the treatment (art. 6 paragraph 1 letter a - art. 9 paragraph 2 letter a GDPR), from regular contacts with the Association (art. 9 paragraph 2 letter d GDPR), from the legal obligations to which the Association is bound (art. 6 paragraph 1 letter c GDPR)

Methods and principles of treatment. The data may be transferred to recipients based outside the EU who have signed agreements aimed at ensuring an adequate level of protection of personal data, or in any case after verifying that the recipient guarantees adequate protection measures. Where necessary or appropriate, the subjects to whom the data are transmitted for carrying out activities on behalf of the Association will be appointed (external) Data Processors pursuant to art. 28 GDPR.

Data retention period. The data will be used by the Association until the termination of the associative relationship. After that date, they will be kept for archival purposes, legal or accounting or tax obligations or for the protection needs of the Association, with the exclusion of communications to third parties and dissemination in any case by applying the principles of proportionality and minimization.
